Progressive Plan Is Followed By Liberal Candidate

Youth Rehabilitation, Work and Wages, Housing and Old Age Pensions Are Policies Stressed

Swinging into the last few days of his campaign with a ringing reiteration of his program of progress, R. C. Marshall, Liberal candidate in the East Edmonton by-election, was given another ovation by supporters on Wednesday night.

Youth rehabilitation; a work and wages program at union rates of pay; a housing scheme for Edmonton to take care of the shortage of 2000 homes now existing here; lowering of the age limit for old age pensions so that men and women will be able to retire earlier and make way for youth now unemployed, were among the policies stressed by Mr. Marshall.

Northern Transportation Facilities

Development of northern transportation facilities out of Edmonton so that this city can secure the advantages of the city's position in the north; of providing the rich mineral areas of the north, were also advocated by "Bob" Marshall who came out flat-footed for "a square deal for the working man and woman of every trade and calling."

"I believe that the return of a Liberal member on Monday can bring these things about," he said, "and if I am elected as your representative I will do my utmost to see that they are brought about."

"I know the needs of the average man and woman in East Edmonton; I know what the average family is up against in this time of economic depression, and if I am sent to Ottawa as your representative I pledge my efforts to work for the welfare of the average man," he said emphatically.

To Bring About Prosperity Here

"I believe in the program I have outlined in my campaign to bring about prosperity in Edmonton by taking advantage of the city's position in the north; of providing youth with work by a youth training program; of finding work at union wages for the heads of families and others now unemployed by carrying out a constructive building program for Edmonton."

"I believe taking care of the aged by reducing the old age pension age limit and making the pensions larger enough so that they can spend their declining years in comfort will do more to raise wages and create better times in this city and province than all the theorizing of advocates of economic nostrums," said Mr. Marshall, who also came out emphatically as being against any attempt on the part of anyone, inside or outside parliament, to force an amalgamation of the Canadian National Railways with the C.P.R.

Under Orders Of St. James Street

"We all know that the big drive is on under orders from St. James street," he said, "but if I am elected I will fight that propaganda drive. No saving that might be effected would make up for the distress and unemployment that would be caused among railroad workers, and I am glad to say that this is the attitude taken by the present Liberal administration at Ottawa. But I would warn my railroad friends that a return of a Conservative representative at this time will mean but one thing to the financial tycoons in Montreal, and that is that the city of Edmonton favor the amalgamation."

Anti-German

J. R. S. HALDANE
 LONDON, March 17.—Prof. J. R. S. Haldane, of the University of London, leader of the anti-German demonstration which took place in London recently in protest of the annexation of Austria, charged that the prime minister had "grossly insulted" the King and Queen because "by the advice of their minister their majesties were forced to lunch with the German foreign secretary while Hitler's troops were invading Austria in violation of the covenant of the League of Nations."

HULL DECLARES U.S. ISOLATION IS INSECURITY PLAN

WASHINGTON, March 17.—Cornell Hull, secretary of state, declaring the United States must hold its rights in its quest for world peace, laid down today a policy of "active protection against international lawlessness."

"It is my considered judgment that, in the present state of world affairs, to do less than is now proposed would lay our country open to an unpardonable hazard," he said, referring to the $1,000,000,000 naval expansion program.

His declaration before the National Press club went over an international radio hook-up to a world disturbed by the spectre of war in Europe and Asia.

"The momentous question," he said, "is whether the doctrine of force shall become entrenched once more and bring in its wake, inevitably, international anarchy and a relapse into barbarism."

"We may seek to withdraw from participation in world affairs," he said, "but we can not thereby withdraw from the world itself. Isolation is not a means to security. It is a fruitful source of insecurity."

"Policy would prove more disastrous than for an important nation to fail to arm adequately when international lawlessness is on the rampage."

In the far East crisis, Hull said the United States has "coincidentally collaborated with other peace-seeking nations" but "there is not a trace of alliance or involvement of any sort."

GERMAN POLICE CHIEF ORDERING CLERICS' ARREST

VIENNA, March 17.—Heinrich Himmler, chief of all Germany's police, today ordered the arrest of all persons belonging to "certain clerical quarters" who he said were spreading "false rumors about new National-Socialist Austria."

He warned an immediate cleanup was in store for those "clerical" quarters. He said he was not only to sue without delay, but also to return the Reich's good foreign relations.

European War Situation Forces Blum To Action

PARIS, March 17.—An immediate increase in French armaments in view of Europe's war clouds was announced by Premier Leon Blum today as he presented his new popular front government to the chamber of deputies.

Blum told a crowded chamber his government, formed only yesterday, was willing to go any length for peace but he said circumstances compelled it to embark on an immediate new armaments program.

"Steps to create these armaments will be taken at once," Blum said, and he promised "the same time nothing will be left undone to organize and develop new means of production."

Pleading for support of his government on its first parliamentary session, the Socialist premier said the German aggression in Austria had shaken Europe.

It could, he said, easily give the "much more serious" developments.

His plea received coldly by most deputies, and political observers said a large element in the chamber was determined Blum must give way in face of France's present perils to a national union government.

France must, Blum added significantly, fulfill her pledged word—reference to the treaty by which France is bound to go to the aid of Czechoslovakia if that country is invaded.

Visitor 'Victimized,' Gets House Number But Forgets Street

Police are still laughing about what they describe as one of the funniest occurrences in many years.

At 4 a.m. Thursday a man walked into the police station to report his loss. Just as there was to be no mistake about it he took the number plate off the house and put it in his pocket.

Constable James McMurtry then set out with Hansen to look for the house. Hansen, the constable's nephew, however, when Hansen suddenly discovered that although he had the house number he had forgotten which avenue it was on.

At 10 a.m. Hansen was still looking for the house with the missing number plate.

Maginot Line Defence

While German troops hold up in Austria, France is reported to be outfitting her troops in the famed Maginot line as Europe anxiously awaits the outcome of Chamberlain's latest coup.

France was caught without a cabinet during the crisis, but quickly rallied and Leon Blum now heads a cabinet with Joseph Paul Boncompagni, late an foreign minister, and Edouard Daladier, 47, as the appointed minister of national defense.

Britain Promises Paris Navy Aid In Spanish Fight

France Keeps Border With Government Spain Shut to Men, Munitions—Drops Plan to Attempt Truce

PARIS, March 17.—Great Britain promised France naval aid last night if Italian and German forces in Spain maintain France's North African communications. In return, Premier Leon Blum told his cabinet France would maintain non-intervention in Spain.

By this decision, France kept her border with government Spain shut to men and munitions, and dropped her plans for an immediate effort with Great Britain to negotiate a Spanish truce.

That the Spanish government appeared to have stopped the Italian drive toward the Mediterranean, at least temporarily, also was cited by Blum as enabling France to keep her frontier shut.

Preparations, nevertheless, went on as the freedom of communication in the Mediterranean was cut off by the French and the British.

The army, it was said, judged the 20,000 troops now gathered on the Spanish border as sufficient under any circumstances. The navy was planning to add extra ships to the Mediterranean patrol.

Mr. Chamberlain's answer to Blum's appeal was taken by the French foreign press by Mr. Eric Thompson, the British ambassador, before the prime minister's speech.

DEPARTMENTS OF CITY PLAN BIG SPENDING

Estimates of $374,755 Tentatively Passed at Council Meeting

Estimated 1938 expenditure for nine city departments was tentatively approved by city council at a special meeting Wednesday as estimates commenced preliminary consideration of the budget. Appropriations originally requested by departmental superintendents aggregated $398,120, but this figure was reduced to $374,755 by the city council.

Actual expenditures for the nine departments last year totaled $313,330. Estimates discussed Wednesday form only a part of the whole budget for the year, which has not yet been completely completed. Council will continue deliberations on estimates at a special meeting called for Thursday.

ASSESSOR'S BRANCH

First department reviewed at Wednesday's meeting was the city assessor's branch, estimated expenditure for this department being $27,853 as compared to an actual operating cost of $28,798 last year. Total expenditure of $117,740 was tentatively approved for the city building department, the actual figure for 1937 being $101,811. Increase in expenditure this year is chiefly due to the employment of a person to handle work of the Town Planning Commission and Zoning Appeal Board, both of which services came under the building department.

CHILDREN'S SHELTER

An amount of $28,710 was tentatively approved for the children's shelter, including probation work. The total expended last year was $27,878, the estimated increase for 1938 year being due to the larger number of children who are now wards of the city. Appropriation for the care of wards is $16,000 as compared to $17,000 last year.

City relief estimates totalling $116,534 as compared to $104,476 last year were approved tentatively. It was reported the substantial increase in the number of indigent cases cared for by this department was responsible for the higher figure this year. The city relief department looks after aged people and unemployed, and is not to be confused with the unemployment or direct relief department.

Council gave tentative approval to an appropriation of $10,642 for the city commissioners' branch, the actual expenditure last year being $8,929. The total expenditure for this department, which includes the mayor and two commissioners, clerks and commissioners, is actually estimated at $20,442, but a credit of $10,000 is received for work done for utility departments reducing the figure to $10,442.

Approval was given an estimated expenditure of $9,000 as against $8,800 for the city controllers department.

MISCELLANEOUS

Largest single item adopted tentatively by council Wednesday was a total appropriation of $118,740 under the heading of miscellaneous expenditures, the total for last year being $118,800. Larger expenditures under this heading are: comfort station, $2,300; election expenses, $2,580; group life insurance, $2,700; care of mental defective, $2,500; old age pensions, $25,000; protection of city crossings, $7,000; taxes on city properties, $8,500; voters list, $8,500; widowed mothers' allowances, $28,000.

GRANTS

The following city grants totalling $44,250 as compared to $42,249 last year, were also tentatively approved by council: Baby Clinic, $200; Bellamy Lodge, $125; Bethel Home, $125; Catholic Women's League (Roxy Hall), $500; Citizens Aid society, $500; Community league, $2,500; Edmonton Museum of Art, $500; General hospital, $4,000; Horticultural society, $75; Homeless, $1,000; miscellaneous, $1,100; Muensterland hospital, $1,000; St. Catherine's hospital, $200; St. John's Ambulance brigade, $200; St. Joseph's (Rutherford) convent, $200; St. Joseph's hospital, $1,200; St. Mary's Home for Boys, $200; Salvation Army, $200; Sisters of Our Lady of Charity, $400; South Side camp grounds, $100; Side sports, $500 (guarantee against loss in Dominion Day games); transportation for disabled children, $1,000.

University hospital clinic, $3,000; University hospital, $12,000; Victoria Order of Nurses, $500; Y.M.C.A., $500; Y.W.C.A., $400; Alberta National Festival association, $500; Alberta Provincial home, $500; Canadian Legion, $500 (puppy fund); Chamber of Mines, $500.

advanced behind the stage of possibility.

Mr. Hore-Belisha was described as demanding a firm declaration of British support for Czechoslovakia and a more positive policy toward the Spanish civil war.

The Associated Press continued: "The war secretary's demand, these sources said, confronts Prime Minister Chamberlain with a virtual ultimatum and forebodes the possible recall of Earl Baldwin and the resigned foreign secretary, Anthony Eden, to lead the Conservative forces."

The informants said Mr. Chamberlain faced the difficult choice of radically changing his foreign policy to re-assure Britain's age-old support of the balance of power or accepting the resignation of four of his younger cabinet members.

"This might have a vital effect on the stability of the government."

WINS IN HOUSE

Prime Minister Chamberlain's decision to continue his policy of non-intervention in Spain won the support of the house, 317 to 141. The vote was on an opposition motion to adjourn the house because of the cabinet's policy of "perpetual drift."

Mr. Chamberlain told the house Britain must not "hold our fingers" on Spain but must continue non-intervention which will "best serve peace, best serve the cause of freedom."

He characterized as "wily rumormongers" reports of fresh foreign reinforcements for the insurgents while Lord Halifax, foreign secretary, said an "insurgent victory" would not necessarily be against the interests of Great Britain.

The opposition press raised the question of whether Mr. Chamberlain's own party supporters are not disaffected with his foreign policy. A source close to the government denied a rumor that Mr. Hore-Belisha had resigned.

Mr. Hore-Belisha was reported to have started yesterday's cabinet meeting by giving the Prime Minister 48 hours to reach a decision.

He was said to have declared plainly he could not endorse British policy of hands off the Spanish war, which he is said to believe, threatens to leave Spain at the mercy of Italy and Germany and make Gibraltar untenable for the British Empire.

BACKING OF STAFF

The Associated Press said the war secretary is believed to have the backing of the army general staff, which he recently reorganized under the youthful General Vangart Gort.

Mr. Chamberlain is believed to be fully supported by the majority of the cabinet. In his desire for caution over Czechoslovakia and determination not to burn his fingers over Spain.

Thus far he has avoided commitment to support Czechoslovakia against possible German aggression, despite the urging of France.

But it was considered doubtful he would be able to withstand the outcry likely to follow the resignation of a key minister such as Mr. Hore-Belisha.

Startlings can be taught to speak.

YOUTH TELLS OF INVITATION ON ADVENTURE

Trial Of Conspiracy Blow Up Japanese Liner Nearing Finish

SEATTLE, March 17.—George Henry Partridge, 22-year-old Canadian, testified in his own defense Wednesday at his trial on charges of conspiring to blow up the Japanese liner Hoya Maru.

At Abbott House, a charitable institution in Vancouver where he went to seek work, he met Rolph Maurice Forsythe, a school instructor there, who drew him here in what police said was an attempt to push a bomb through the water to the Hoya Maru.

GO ON ADVENTURE

"Forsythe asked me if I wanted to go on an adventure," Partridge said.

"Forsythe said Japan and China were at war and I should know Japco was in the wrong. He asked me if I would be willing to do anything to aid in stopping that war. He said Forsythe promised him $3,000 if he would help and that he would be considered a hero if he did."

"I got pretty well enthused then, but later, when I decided to back out, he said I couldn't do it."

"I order you to stick with us or suffer the consequences," Partridge said Forsythe told him.

"He said I was in danger and my relatives I would be also if I refused."

ALMOST RUN DOWN

"I went to my brother that night and on my way home a big black automobile almost ran me down three times. The last time it just grazed me and left a bruise I showed to my brother. I was pretty scared and thought there might be something to what Forsythe had said."

"I decided to join his plans and to try to wreck them if I could."

He also testified he was struck on the head with a flashlight by three men in a Vancouver, B.C., alleyway who frightened him into confining with the plot after he sought to run away.

PRANKING HITS ANOTHER HIGH AT UNIVERSITY

Rooms of Theologian Students Ransacked By Raiding Party

College pranksters reached another high water mark for the year Wednesday evening when the residents of St. Stephen's College embarked on a "full-fledged raiding" of the rooms of the theologian students as they attended their annual banquet at the Cornelia hotel.

Citizens patrolling the college were amused when they saw a double string of highly colored gaudies driving between two telephone poles at the corner of 88 avenue and 112 street, and a dummy, bearing the inscription: "This was a dummy," hanging from the arm of a telephone pole across the street from the Varsity "Tug" shop.

TOWER IS DRAFTED

The extent of the pranking affected more than a dozen "bleeding" students in the residence, their entire possessions being removed to some inconvenient corner of the building. Two strings of bed clothing extended from the top of a four-story wing to the ground, with beds and springs previously suspended from the parapet of the building. The top of one of the towers, about 120 feet high, was draped with sheets, while suspended from the sheets was a bed. A set of springs was balanced on the top of one of the chimneys. Chairs, study desks and book cases were orderly arranged on the roof of one of the wings of the building.

The contents of the college were neatly arranged with two beds, a bookcase, study desk and easy chairs. In the middle was a large table covered with a brilliant red table cloth, and with four chairs, a bed and a racy table at each place. A bronze plaque of John McLeod Miller, one of the former principals of the college, was draped with a lace curtain.

About 60 residents of the college participated in the re-arrangement for the homecoming of the building, the "bleeding" over two hours to perform their task.

When the "bleeding" students returned home, many expressed their expectation of the prank, having heard rumors of it throughout the day.

The majority of the students spent

Wine Work Rescue Favored In Compensation Bill

ACT CHANGES ARE RATIFIED BY MEMBERS

Only Men Engaged in Hazardous Occupation Get 100 P.C. Liquidation

Only those workmen engaged in mine rescue work in a mine are entitled to receive the 100 per cent compensation, according to an amendment section to the Workmen's Compensation Act, ratified in the legislature on Wednesday while the house was in committee of the whole.

The 100 per cent compensation does not apply to all workmen engaged in rescue work. For other members of the grade of compensation is less than two thirds of per cent of a workman's earnings.

The house discussed at length the amendment bill to the Workmen's Compensation Act and finally voted the measure over for further discussion.

DEFINITION AMENDED

The committee amended the definition of "medical aid" to include "all those licensed to practice the art of healing in the province." The amendment was made "to include that chiropractors, osteopaths and others could attend to the injured men if desired by the workmen."

The amendment was carried in preference to naming "chiropractors" specifically, which was contented. It would have meant naming all arts of healing.

The work of the committee studying the bill had been completed, said Fred Anderson, S.C., Calgary, when the committee took up the Workmen's Compensation Act.

When effort was made to have the word "chiropractors" inserted in the bill, Mr. Anderson said the subject had been extensively discussed by the committee and that a new definition of "physician" had been included to embrace every branch of the art of healing.

Since the bill provided for treatment of any type desired by a workman, chiropractors would be available, and Mr. Anderson said.

STILL IN COMMITTEE
The bill is still in committee, and Mr. Anderson said that when the clause relating to assessment for medical aid is reached, an amendment will be proposed to limit the maximum fee at five cents a day instead of the present maximum of 10 cents a day. The rate in Alberta varies from one-half cent to 10 cents a day.

Who's Who

LIBERALS ARE SAID TO BE SECTIONALISM

Denton Massey, Conservative M.P., Speaks For Walter Cleveley

Asserting that the Liberal party does not permit the expression of national feeling, he is tied up in sectionalism and permits one province to play against another, Denton Massey, Conservative member of the house of commons for Toronto - Greenwood, appeared Wednesday night at a mass meeting at the Memorial Hall for the support of the East Edmonton election for Walter Cleveley, the party's candidate in the by-election.

He said the Conservative party stood for empire unity, trade with the world, the markets that we know—the Empire; the resulting of the provinces in a great national effort and the development of Canada for the Canadian people.

HAS NO POLICY

He charged that the Liberal government had no policy with regard to Canada's external obligations, adding that the "possibility of a national policy" was not so remote that we can afford to ignore it. "Our policy is to be decided until the guns have started firing. We must face the possibility of being engaged in another life and stage struggle."

Mr. Massey claimed that the position of youth had been essentially ignored by the Liberal government. "The Liberal government for youth rehabilitation, totally inadequate sum for this great problem."

Youth rehabilitation demands the adoption of a system of apprenticeship, opportunity to learn a trade.

MONEY REFORM IS BIG NEED

PREMIER SAYS

The one "great and important matter to solve our present depression is monetary reform," Premier William Aberhart declared on Wednesday evening in the course of an address here.

The premier was speaking in support of Greville A. Kennedy, Social Credit candidate in the East Edmonton constituency by-election of Monday next and associated with him in the address was Mr. Kennedy.

The premier also declared that "up to the present the Liberal federal government, now in power, has aided itself to responsibility in respect to many social services which it is its duty to look after."

The premier also declared that "the whole of Canada is watching what you are going to do in this election. A vote for Mr. Kennedy will show that you object to the debt and financial interference in the government of this province."

Bank clearings for the week ending Thursday, March 17, totalled $2,068,000, according to figures issued by the clearing house. Figures for the corresponding week last year were $3,689,343.86.

Edmonton Irishmen

To Fete St. Patrick At Banquet Tonight

In common with Irishmen throughout the world Edmonton's sons and daughters of the Emerald Isle will celebrate St. Patrick's day in right royal style.

Members of the St. Patrick's Society of Edmonton will hold their eleventh annual banquet at the Macdonald hotel when "the first flower of the earth" in Irishmen and women and symbol of their patron saint will be served by the toast.

The toast "The Day We Celebrate" will be given by Rev. Brother M. Dunne, M. Dunne will propose the toast to the Society Judge A. U. G. Bury will propose the toast to the guests, and R. D. Tighe, K.C., that to the ladies. Toastmaster for the occasion will be J. K. Hill.

An honored guest will be Bishop Leo Charles Nelligan, of Pembroke, Ont., former Roman Catholic vicar-general of the Edmonton diocese.

Through the St. Patrick's Society, the Irish Exiles day. Many will be wearing the traditional green hosiery of Erin. And in thousands of homes the welcoming cry of "Welcome to St. Patrick's Day" will be heard.

The patron saint of Ireland, according to the encyclopaedia, (which all seem to differ on the point) was born about the year 388. He was the son of a deacon and the grandson of a priest. He died on the 17th of March, 1700, at the age of 62.

Patrick was doubtless educated as a Christian and was imbued with reverence for the Roman emperor. When about 16 years of age he was captured by a band of Irish marauders. His bondsmen for six years, during this time he became a Christian and a monk.

From one place to another he travelled, preaching and defying the royal authority by performing forbidden religious ceremonies.

LONG LOOK BACK
It is a long look back to the first St. Patrick's day in Canada. It was in 1861 that the first Irishman came to Canada and was called to Britain by treaty.

The celebrants of that day, Quebec city, were mostly soldiers of the Irish regiments, gallant fellows who had taken part with the Scots in the Battle of the Plains, and thus, by their alliance with the English regiments, had won a united Kingdom—the army years before the actual union came.

In 1819 the first St. Patrick's parade in Canada took place in Quebec city, then having a large population of Irish Catholics in the population; and then, as often afterwards the English and Scottish soldiers took part in the parade and banquet, the latter of which lasted for 14 hours and involved the drinking of more than a score of toasts.

ST. PATRICK'S ANKERS
It has been said of St. Patrick that "There were no Christians in Ireland when he started his work and no pagans when he died." St. Patrick was supposed to have made all the marks in Ireland from his own selves into the city, they could not stand to live with one go and pure in the land. Then there was the mission that tried to give St. Patrick a drink of poisoned wine, but the liquid congealed as he brought it to his lips, and the drop of poison ran out leaving the pure, unadulterated wine.

BILL WILLIAMS, student: I would give anything if we were taught the real French in the lower grades in school. It would make things an awful lot easier for us now. Why I have a friend who took his high schooling here and went to Kingston university. There he has found that his French is practically useless and that he is as much at sea in a French class at university, as he would be if he had never taken the class in French here.

BILL WILSON, future salesman: Are you here again? Why do you just let me write your inquiry in the Bulletin for you, which you go on a nice long holiday.

NADIA NAHOITA, waitress: I would like to be able to speak French, and I think it would be a fine idea to have French in our schools much earlier than it is now introduced. After all, it is just as the pupils can speak English, so why not French? Why shouldn't we be able to do the same. French is almost as universal a language as English, so it would be to our advantage to learn it well.

The French, as a rule, eat nothing but chocolate a day, and with a cup of chocolate upon arising.

102 Today

The Social Credit party has no minority of hatred or war and its candidate, Dr. Kennedy, "should not be tried to make political capital out of his belief in conservation of wealth in wartime as that view is shared by all forward looking people and is not a party issue."

R. C. Marshall, Liberal candidate in the East Edmonton by-election, said Wednesday night in addressing a meeting in Forest Heights school.

Ald. F. C. Caselman also spoke at the meeting. He said in the central section of the city discussing political affairs with friends, Mark Marshall, chairman of the Social Credit party in this platform and tried to pass it off as his own idea and not a party issue.

BE FIRST THING
"I think," he continued, "that the Social Credit party is so thoroughly convinced that in the event of a war, capital should be the first thing to be conserved, that our party should not be left alone to bear the burden of the struggle while other citizens, by being so convinced, are not being so convinced, and get rich out of their misery."

"This is not a party issue. I am certain that Mr. Cleveley, the Conservative candidate, feels exactly the same. One must not lose sight of wealth in war time as does Mr. Kennedy."

But to make political capital out of this belief, to try to make this opposition to proffering the Social Credit party, is rather than working with all men of good-will to see that no abuse takes place, I think most unfortunate," Mr. Marshall carefully submitted.

"I would go so far as to say that the people of Canada should divide the care of all their political representatives, no matter what party, the supreme need of preventing proffering, should be a very recent subject."

BEAT THEIR SHARE
"They should divide such a commission in Canada on this subject, if any government, I care not, they should be able to have to see to it that wealth and capital are made to bear their share of the common burden," Mr. Marshall declared.

East Edmonton voters were urged by Mr. Marshall to be stamped into rash action by the Social Credit party and to be "crude appeals to passion and prejudice" being "spear" by the "Social Credit" party.

"Social Credit is trying a bogus campaign in this election, and it is the duty of every citizen to work the party of his betrayal of the interests of the people. Tell it by a big majority on March 21 that you have had enough of it."

"I don't see anything about the salary gap, or about having the Social Credit members of the legislature, they are not being paid by 10 per cent while seeking to impose a wage tax of one per cent on every citizen for $60 a month," Mr. Marshall said.

"That wage tax," declared as an income tax, "was revealed in order not to embarrass Greville Kennedy in the campaign, he submitted."

CLEAN FIGHT
I have tried to carry on a clean fight, I have observed the principles of sportsmanship, I have discussed issues, not personalities. I believe that it is Edmonton that is the one important thing, and that after the election, despite the passion now being engaged, we will all be able to get together, no matter who wins and work to put this city over the top," Mr. Marshall pleaded.

We have had too much of this sneering and biting, too much of this making a country divided into two Birkens sides.

What we need is more operation and if I go to Ottawa I pledge my honor to work to the best of my ability, and without faltering, for the progress left-over for the people. I am now advertising, he concluded.

Lauding Mr. Marshall's real effort, Alexander F. C. Caselman, made a strong appeal for Mr. Marshall to be elected, and to be elected as a man who would strive for the good of the city, and to be elected as a man who would help the people of Edmonton to get their money's worth.

Marshall Declares Making Political Capital Out Of Belief

Revamping System For Money May Be Needed

THUNDERBOLT, March 12—Canada should consider revamping her entire monetary system, Premier Hepburn of Ontario told the annual dinner of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy last night.

Referring to the "war talk" of Europe, the premier said that while "peace is going up everywhere in Canada for old England and her efforts to preserve peace," Canada should take stock of her own resources.

"If we are going to be a big power," he said, "we must be able to dig down into another war, can we finance it on borrowed money?"

I think the answer is 'no,' not without destroying our whole financial structure.

"And if all the other nations go to war and there is a dissipation of their resources, we are going to be the only nation left to reap the ultimate that gold: the one of our greatest problems is to figure how to meet that event."

Millers Prove Better Slap-Bang Hockey Stars on Poor Surface—Play Rubber Game at Saskatoon Friday

MOOSE JAW, March 17.—A splashing good time was had by all but Flin Flon Bombers as they took a soaking and a 5-0 plastering from Moose Jaw Millers here last night to square the Saskatchewan senior hockey best of three finals at a win apiece. Flin Flon won the first game at Saskatoon last Monday 4-2.

The teams were to, Saskatoon for the rubber game Friday. With the Millers miserably a soft-team, Flin Flon was never in the picture. Playing conditions were bad, with the ice covered deep in water in spots.
